About Ranchi

Ranchi is the capital of the Indian state of Jharkhand. The Jharkhand state was formed on 15 November 2000 by carving out the Bihar divisions of Chota Nagpur and Santhal Parganas. Ranchi has been selected as one of the hundred Indian cities to be developed as a smart city under PM Narendra Modi's flagship Smart Cities Mission. Air: Birsa Munda Airport (IXR) of Ranchi has direct flights from all major cities of India. A new domestic terminal is now ready which is spread over 19,676 square metres of land furnished with imported equipment, and has the capacity to handle 500 domestic passengers. Rail: Ranchi Railway Station is well connected with direct trains from Delhi, Kolkata, Mumbai, Chennai and other major cities. Apart from Ranchi Railway Station, Hatia Railway Station is also a major railway station in Ranchi.

Local Weather During Conference

Ranchi has a humid subtropical climate, its location and the forests surrounding it combine to produce the unusually pleasant climate for which it's known. Its climate is the primary reason why Ranchi was once the summer capital of the undivided State of Bihar and was designated a preferable "hill station". The average temperature (max) in March is about 24°C.

About Conference

Man's capability to transform his environment can bring the benefits of economic development and an opportunity to enhance the quality of life. But this same power incorrectly applied for a long span of time has led to depletion of resources and at the same time caused immense harm to the natural environment and consequently to human life. Delayed remedial action will cost considerably more and the damage will become irreversible. The need of the hour is to plan a balanced system giving due importance to socio-economic, technological and ecological factors for the proper allocation of resources in order to fulfill the needs and aspirations of present and future generations without degrading the environment.

The 3rd International Conference on Environment and Ecology (ICEE 2017) will provide an opportunity to discuss current environmental issues, promote greater collaboration and strengthen the connection among scientists, policymakers and activists. The conference will further help in developing a strong network among scientists, academicians, voluntary organizations, youths including students and teachers along with community people to share their expertise in order to find integrated and comprehensive solutions for different environmental issues affecting the planet earth.

Conference Goals

The goals of the International Conference on Environment and Ecology (ICEE 2017) are:

1. To generate new knowledge related to understanding the background and causes of different ecological and environmental events at the local and global levels.
2. To bring together the world's leading scientists, economists, and policy experts to explain the often-neglected debate on environmental and ecological issues.
3. To share the results of the conference with policymakers, civic and business leaders, and the interested public in order to arrive at constructive and progressive approaches to abate environmental problems and ensure sustainability.
4. To set the groundwork for future conferences and publications on environmental and ecological issues.
